

Popular Options for Large Dining Tables

Dining tables are not all about size but style. When planning your family dining room, it's also important to consider what kind of table will be practical for your home. Oak dining tables and chairs are considered to be a classic option that fits into just about any dining room. Here are some ideas for creating a modern dining room with oak dining tables.

For a casual family meal, consider a round oak dining table as these are more informal and allow everyone to see and speak to each other during the meal. Oak is a beautiful natural material that looks great in a variety of styles and round oak tables are no exception. A 2 seater dining table can seat two people, with an additional 6 inches between the seats for added room to move about, but these are only practical if you dine alone or with one other person. Larger families will need to choose much bigger tables to make sure there is room for everyone.

In a large family home setting, a large dining room table with ample seating is perfect. It will make it easier and more convenient to enjoy meal times together with your family, or to host a larger number of guests for a dinner party. You can even get extendable dining tables which can be unfolded to increase the number of people that you and your family can dine with. Again, a great idea for a family dining room setting is a round style table. Round dining tables can also accommodate extra chairs for a more informal or larger than expected family gathering.

If you have a small or informal family dinner often, you might want to avoid large dining tables with much more space than you need as this can make you feel too awkwardly spread out. If you love the look of a unique, large dining table, but would like to avoid the downsides of dining tables which are too large then this is another reason to try an extendable dining table. An expandable table can easily be stored when not in use and has an extra leaf for added seating space. These extendable dining tables have an attractive look that can really enhance your dining experience, especially if you have variable numbers of dinner guests.

Extendable tables with drop leaves are a wonderful idea for entertaining. These tables can be used to seat several additional guests at one time, as well as giving you plenty of space to serve meals. An extendable 10 seater dining table can extend to sit 12 or more people without much hassle. Extendable tables tend to be square and rectangular, though you can also find round versions which always look great.

If you are struggling to choose a large dining table for your dining room then a good rule of thumb is to choose a round or square table for rooms with equally sized walls, and oval and rectangular tables for longer rooms. You need to make sure there is at least a couple of feet of space between the backs of the seats and the walls so everyone has enough space, and also try to leave more room between the entrance of the room and the edge of the table so people do not feel cramped when entering or leaving.

An oak wood dining table will have a classic look that can blend into any home decor style. Wood dining room tables are timeless and with a little care they will last you for years. They can also be chosen to match your existing furniture, if you would prefer a matching set throughout the home.

A large dining table is great for entertaining and for those with large families. Round tables allow for more guests to be seated at a given time as it is easier to move the chairs slightly closer together than with square or rectangular tables. Square tables are a classic design and will work well in most homes, though their angles can sometimes look a little severe. You may choose from various size round tables or opt for a custom made table that will fit the dimensions of your dining room.

Resources:

- Oak Furniture - Austin College
- Oak Furniture - HelpSite
- Oak Furniture Sale - Hyperhiz
- Oak Furniture Sale - Merchant Circle
- 12 Seater Dining Table - Patreon
- Oak Wine Rack - Steemit
- Oak Kitchen Stools - Thinkific
- Living Room Sideboards - Zenodo